INTERNATIONALIZATION POLICY

Antalya Akev University (AKEV) aims to be one of the leading universities in the region, Europe and the world in 2029. As a new generation higher education institution, AKEV is aware that we live in a global world. which information, information seekers and information providers are found across borders. Anyone can be anywhere, not just with a ticket, but with a click. This fact has been a major game changer in higher education in recent years.

“Globalization” or “melting in the same pot” is a concept appreciated not only today but also in the past. For example, most Greek and Muslim philosophers would travel outside of their regions and explore beyond their regions. Internationalization has never been easier than it is today, but it has certainly been practiced and valued for a long time. It was the practice of internationalization, not only at the individual but also at the societal level, that made today's scientific legacy possible. When we look at the so-called Golden Ages of human history, such as the rise of Islamic civilization, the Renaissance, and the Scientific Revolution, we see that they all coincide with the search for truth at a global level. . His Greek heritage was preserved and developed in the early days of Islam, and when he went to Europe there was a "Rebirth". The seamless knowledge journey allows us to bring together diverse ideas from different cultures, which can result in unprecedented advances in both the arts and sciences. Considering this, AKEV considers internationalization as one of its most important priorities. In addition to the international accreditation processes, AKEV started its strategic development and planning program before it opened its doors to its students.
